Board Approves New Plans and Ideas

Keeping the school system running smoothly and efficiently is the responsibility of the Southfield Board of Education. Some of the Board's functions are to levy school taxes, to appropriate funds, to hire instructors, and to make general educational policy. The president of the Board, Dr. John English, is at the present organizing plans for the new high school. It is to be completed in September of 1967. The new school will be located at Twelve Mile and Southfield.

The Board of Education, being the policy-making body of the school system, has a great amount of responsibility. It must adequately plan for the future growth of Southfield and for the new facilities that will be needed to train the youth fot the positions of tomorrow.

President of the Southfield Board of Education, Dr. John English, far right, discusses school policy at a meeting, while Barry Grant and Bob Coffey listen.

The Board of Education for 1966-67 is: Ken Larsen, Robert Scrase, Arthur Pellitier, Richard Condit, Barry Grant, Bob Coffey, Dr. John English, and William Adcock.

Both the Administration and Interested parent and principal, Robert Hall, discuss the merits of Southfield High's curriculum and faculty.

The House 'O' counseling center is a busy place during school and after hours. The counselors are always ready to help students with scheduling, personal problems, or college applications. It is also a source for information about jobs, and universities. The student can depend on the counseling center for advice concerning school and extra curricular activities.

The responsibility of the counselors also include the distribution of report cards.

The Administration office is the origin of school policy and important decisions involving the students. The smooth operation of school functions rests in the hands of Mr. Hall and Mr. Fishbeck. Together they coordinate academic programs along with extra cirricular activities to create a well rounded program.

Mrs. Lutz, Mr. Fishbeck's secretary, reviews information on school policy.

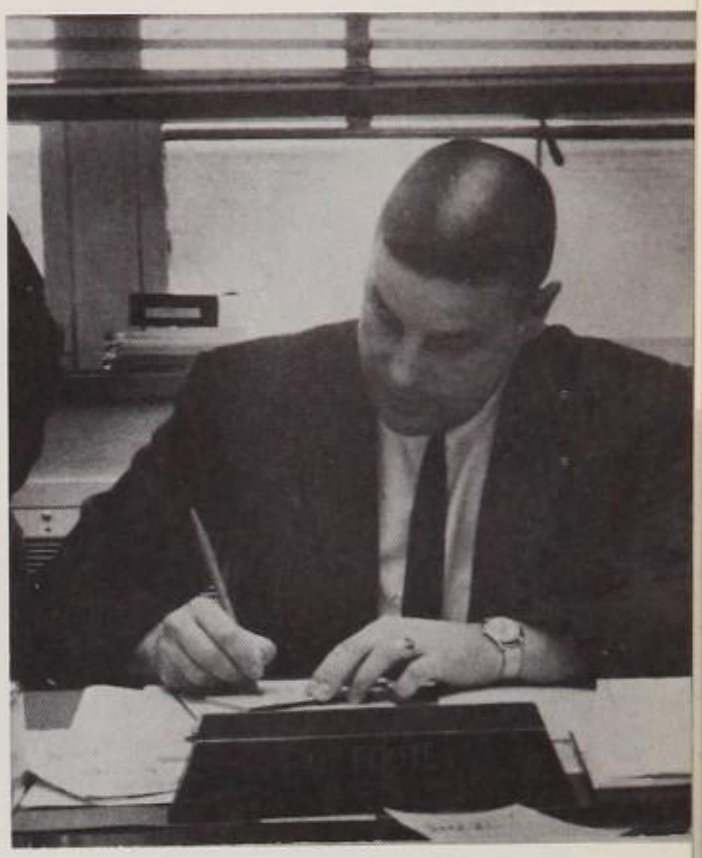
Mrs. Reynolds greets visitors to the Office with directions and advice.

Assistant principal, Mr. Fishbeck, exchanging anecdotes with parents at Open House.

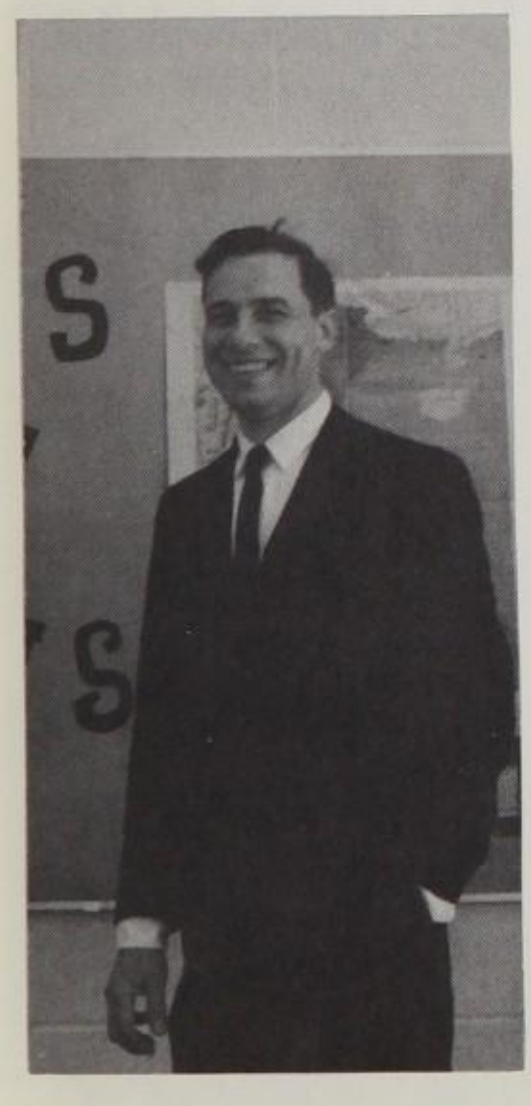
House 'O' Counselors Follow Busy Schedule

Cheryl Larkin, student assistant, helps Mrs. Palmer in her morning duties.

Mr. Pagen, in charge of audio-visual materials, relaxes in his office.



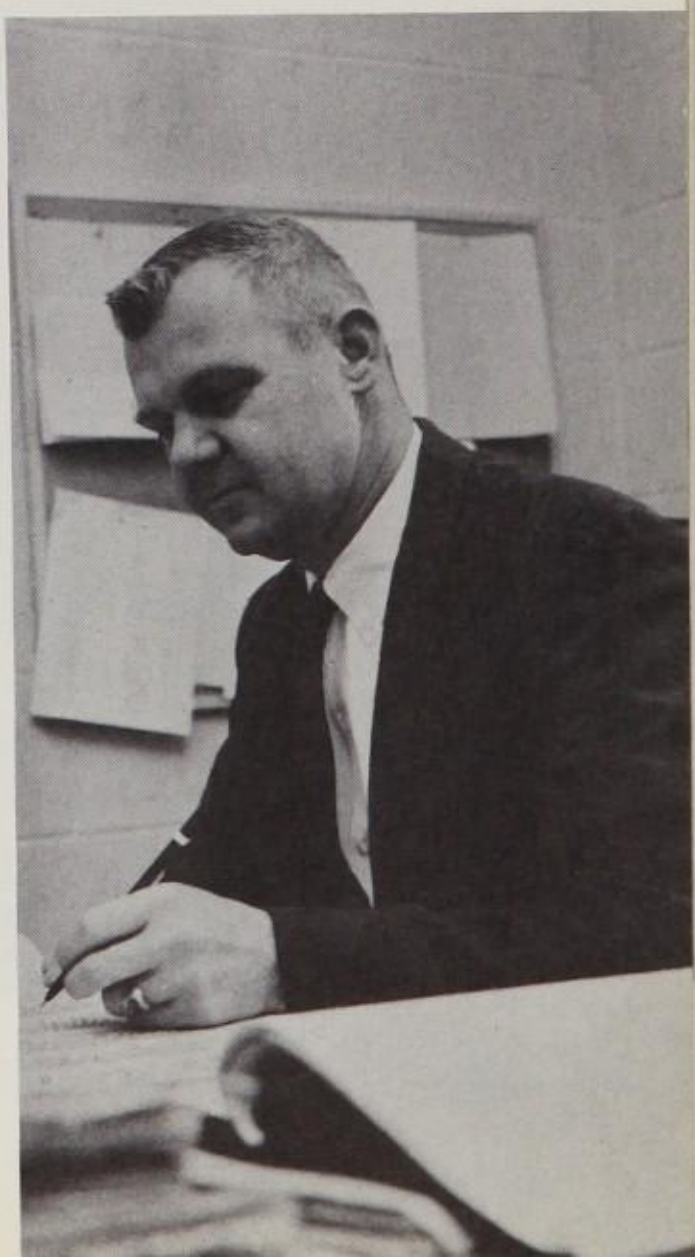
Mr. Foote, House O counselor, writes out an absence excuse for a student.



Mr. Poertner, special education, exhibits his bulliten board.

Mr. Reynolds uses the telephone often during the course of an average day.

Mr. Wright examines lists of the students under his guidance.

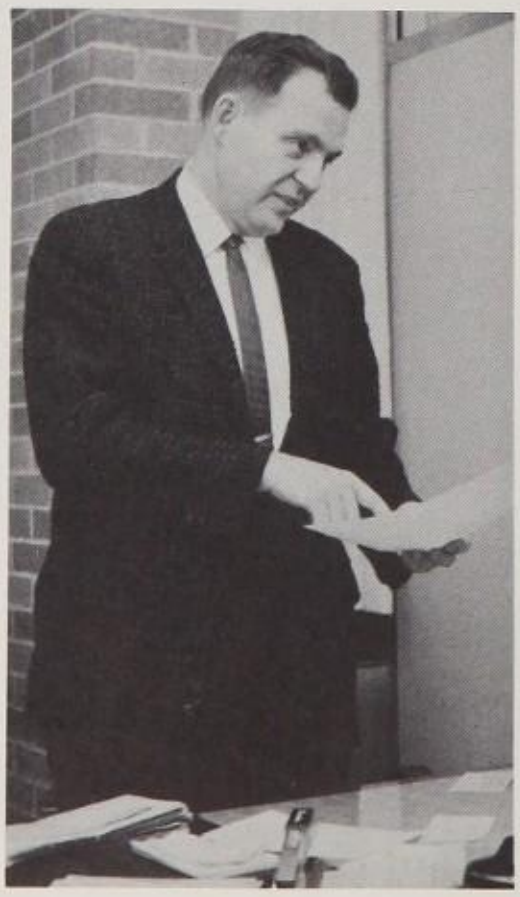


Mrs. Donahue confers with a parent about one of the students she counsels

Mr. Burr, Director of Guidance for House A, points out information to Cookie Farber concerning tuition fees of the college she is thinking of applying to.

Houses 'A' and 'B' Work to

Mr. Owen answers Robert Carter's questions concerning application form.



Mr. McCoy explains course details to a student.

The telephone rings. A student assistant answers and delivers the message to the counselor. Two students sit in chairs waiting to be sent home because of illness. A student sits silently listening to the advice his counselor offers him. All these incidents and more are part of everyday activities in the counseling centers of House A and House B. The hub of student life, the private offices of each of the counselors are open for conference any time of the day. Catalogues concerning colleges and universities are available for interested students.

In addition to the many responsibilities of the centers, House B must record all attendence records for all three houses. State records are also filed in House B office along with any other vital information needed for state aid.

Grinning, Mr. Greenman aids students by looking up records in his files.

Supervisor of House B, Mr. Julien puts faculty information into the mailboxes.

Guide Students to Success

Mr. Di Guilio discusses academic averages with a student who is interested in joining the co-op program.

Miss Sutton, House B counselor, commutes between House A and House B.

Efficient Workers Help to Maintain

Southfield school buses go over the entire city to transport students to and from school.

The workers at Southfield work from early in the morning until late in the evening to keep the school running smoothly. Custodians must come to school early to open it and prepare for the 7:00 barrage of students and teachers. Bus drivers climb into cold buses to start their rounds of Southfield streets, cheerily greeting the many tired and grumpy students.

Cooks take much time and care to prepare nutricious meals for hungry SHS'ans. Custodians have to clear up the cafeterias so that they may be used the next hour for study.

Other workers include Mrs. Meek and her assistants in the Print Shop. They work industrially to put out copies of the Jay and school announcements.

It is the co-ordinated working spirit of the people at Southfield High which keeps the school running smoothly and efficiently.

Custodian Bob Gimmel takes a moment off from work to relax in the office.

When Southfield fire department's fire engines pay an unexpected visit to the school, a curious crowd gathers.

Outstanding English Courses

Southfield High is especially proud of its outstanding English department, headed by Mr. James Shippee. Many unusual and stimulation courses are offered, ranging from Humanities and World Literature to Survey of the Novel. This year some students went to Stratford, Ontario, to see the Shakespearean drama. 'Twelfth Night,' and to Wayne State University's Hilberry Classic to see 'A Midsummers Night Dream.'

A new experimental program was begun this year, which was initiated by the Federal government. It places emphasis upon the reading and understanding of paperback books. This program, called REAP, standing for Reading Extention and Progress, is taught by Miss Jeanne Hayes.

School Publications Keep Students Informed

Keeping the school body informed about news and events throughout the school year is the responsibility of the Southfield Jay newspaper staff. Beginning on the first day of school this year, the newspaper staff issued a paper every two weeks. In November, the staff, headed by Mrs. Kearns, traveled to Michigan State for the Annual High School Newspaper Day.

The yearbook recalls the entire school year in retrospect. This year the Blue and Gray staff combined with the newspaper staff to issue the senior supplement in June. Quill and Scroll, an international honorary society for high school journalists awards talented publications staff members who attained recognition in the society. They were awarded at the annual Spring program for publications staff members.

Junior, Randy Jorgenson, stamps into the library while Sue Stein waits for her turn.

Highlight of the year for the Speech department was the opening of the new student radio station, WSHJ, managed by Mr. Tom Kiple and supervised by Mr. Dan Julien.

Acting II classes, under the direction of department head Mrs. Virginia Borts, presented plays for children at elementary schools in the city.

Other speech activities handled this year were debates and Spring Forensics. The debate team, coached by Mr. Arthur Voisin, was highly successful, Spring Forensics concerned many facets of speech, some of which were multiple reading, declamation, extemporaneous speech, humorous and dramatic reading.

The library was opened every Wednesday night, in addition to the regular school hours. This gave students extra time to use the excellent reference section developed by head librarian, Mrs. Thelma Keller.

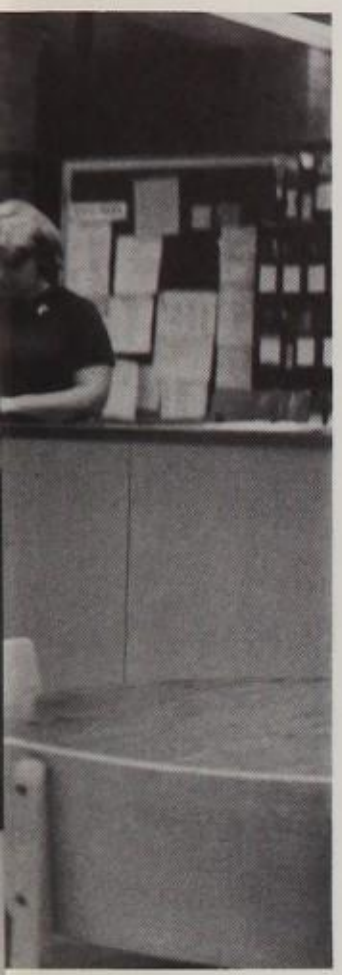
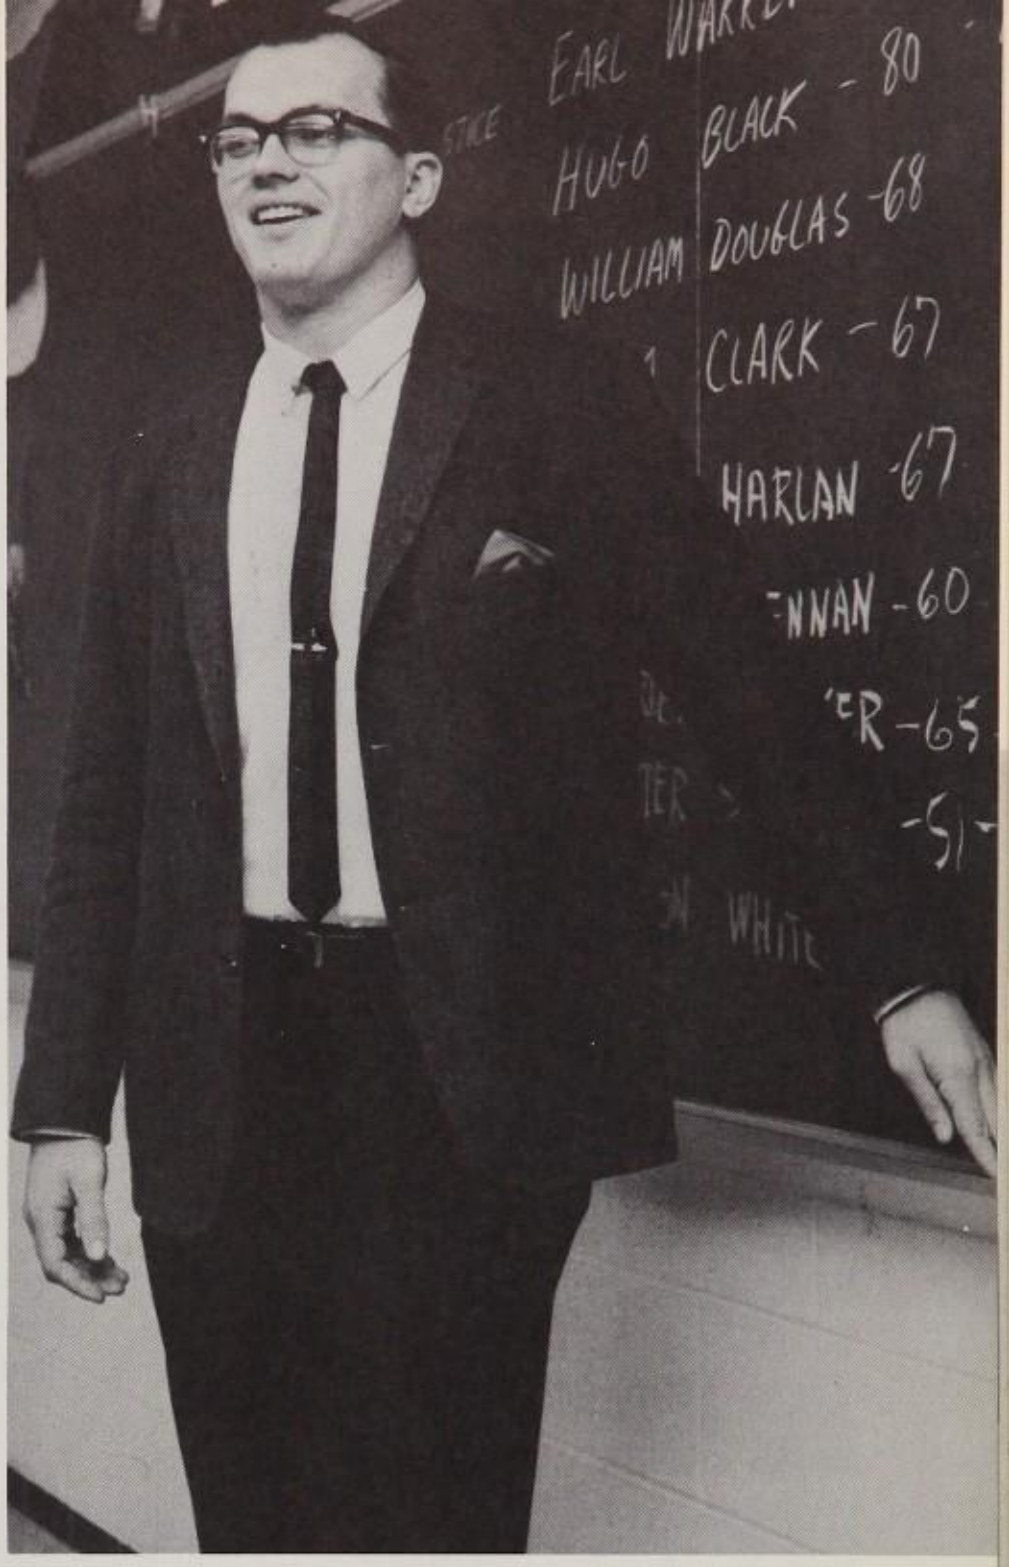
Produce Better Citizens



The Social Studies department plays an integral part in the curriculum of the student, In addition to American History classes, Sociology and Government classes present to students many interesting subjects and projects to be carried out during the year. This year, American History and Government classes combined to ship canned goods and other necessary items to soldiers in Viet Nam.

In November, Senior Government Day proved to be not only informative but enjoyable as well. After attending an assembly in the morning that presented city officials to the student body, elected students assumed the responsibilities their offices demanded of them for one day. This experience gave the students a realistic view of their city's government in action. Sociology classes took a field trip to the State hospital at Northville. They also discussed many problems in today's world.



Mr. Butler explains principles of government to his seniors.

History teacher, Mr. Kellie, discusses the origins of democracy.

Audio-visual materials such as movies are often a great addition to American History classes, Miss Feldman discovers.

Foreign Languages Widen

Ronnie Kerwin helps Miss Foltz translate a German sentence.

Language classes at SHS do not concern themselves with only conjugations of verbs and memory work. Under the leadership of department head, Mrs. Irma Wright, language classes strive to make speaking a foreign language a more pleasurable experience.

Skits are given, and reports and projects add interest. The play 'Carmen' was given by students in French III classes. It proved to be not only a good exercise in speaking but also a lot of fun. Activities like songfests, audio-visual materials, such as slides and movies help make classes interesting.

An increasing emphasis is placed upon understanding people in other countries, through programs such as Foreign Exchange and the Peace Corps.

A working knowledge of a foreign language proves useful to those who wish to understand their own language a little better.

Mathematics Help

Mathematics play a large part in the academic scene at Southfield High. Department chairman Kenneth Hull offers one of the most diversified curriculum in the school. A student may choose a class in general math or algebra, calculus, advanced algebra, or trigonometry, Advanced students may enroll in the math seminar, which attacks more complex problems and ideas.

Math is important in developing a logical thought process. It is valuable in other fields as well, which often depend on difficult mathematical processes. This year, the mathematics department produced twenty semi-finalists in the Michigan Competitive Math Scholarship Test. To these students, and all others who have taken math courses, math proves to be the language of science.

Curiosity Satisfied Through Scientific Studies

SHS offers many opportunities for students interested in scientific studies to learn old and new concepts. Department heads Burmann Brewbaker and George Schrandt strive to make the study of science vital and meaningful.

The chemistry rooms got new lab tables this year, replacing the ones which were installed when the school was first built, sixteen years ago.

Biology classes made extensive use of the many acres of fields and open land surrounding the school. During the spring and fall months, they observed plant and animal ecology, or adaptations to the environment. Also used in biological studies was the greenhouse, which served as a center for long-range experiments.

Science has become increasingly important in the last decade, until today scientists are invaluable to society.

Band, and Choir Develop Talent in Music

Mr. Brown and the orchestra prepare for the Spring Musical in the auditorium.

Tones of voices and instruments blending together in harmony filled the auditorium with pleasant sounds. The Christmas and Spring concerts brought the choirs together with the orchestra, which is under the direction of Mr. Richard Brown. The Concert Choir, directed by Mr. L. V. Kochenderfer, travelled to Goodwill Industries in the fall and entertained. They also performed with Varsity Choir, Boy's Glee, and Girls' Glee, led by Mrs. Ellen Jones. The J-notes and Madrigal Singers added to the variety of talent in the vocal department.

The Southfield High School Marching Band participated in Michigan Band Day at the University of Michigan. The Band, under the leadership of Mr. Anthony Aiuto, provided the half-time entertainment for all the home football games. In addition, they participated in the Thanksgiving Day Parade.

The Concert Choir, under the direction of Mr. Vince Kochenderfer, has been very busy this year. In addition to performing at the Christmas and Spring Concerts, the choir participated in the district music festival held at Pontiac Northern High School. A Superior rating was received for tone, quality, and sight reading ability. In the spring, an exchange concert with Kimball High School brought the choirs together in a mass production number.

Future Jobs

Preparing students for clerical and office work after high school is the function of the Business department. Typing, accounting, shorthand, notehand, and bookeeping are some of the skills presented to students. A trip to the National Bank of Detroit provided the students of office practice classes with an inside view of the banking system. Bookeeping, accounting, and shorthand were seen put to work during the guided tour of the building.

The Co-op department operates a program for the working student. Under this program, students attend classes one half of the day and receive on-the-job training for which they are paid. The Co-op plan allows students to continue their education while preparing for an occupation in the business world. The guidance of the employer provides first-hand background knowledge.

Individuality Expressed Through Art

Everything from yarn rugs to record cover designs can be found in Southfield High's art department. Under the direction of Mr. Sweatt, the department chairman, students can elect art, sculpture, commercial art, or basic drawing.

Display cases that cover the second floor of 'O' building exibit jewelry made by the students. Copper pendants, free form pins, and initial rings are among the favorites. Other cases are filled with colorful mobiles, clay model heads, life drawings, and oil landscapes. All these exhibits never fail to attract the interest of faculty and students alike.

The great talent of the students was recognized in the Detroit News art contest. Thirty students were given awards and their projects put on exhibit at the downtown Crowley's.

Not only do the students benefit from seeing each other's creations, but they also can enjoy the work of established artists through slides, field trips to galleries, and by exhibits set up at Southfield High.

and Physical Education Skills

Physical education is not only for the athletically inclined. It does not have to be a dreary routine of calisthetics or fear of getting hair wet after a workout in the pool. The variety of activities at Southfield High School offers the student many areas to expand upon while at the same time enjoying the class. The pool makes lifesaving, swimming and diving available to the student body. Apparatus, such as parallel bars, rings, and ropes, help to develop co-ordination. Badminton. modern dance, and volleyball are a few of the sports offered to the girls for development of poise and grace.

This year, the building of the new field house, adjacent to House B, proved to be beneficial to the physical education department. It houses such activities as wrestling, tumbling and fencing.

Only a few steps away one can hear the busy sounds of boys at work in the industrial arts wing. In electricity classes, basic principles are studied and students learn to make various kinds of electronics equipment. Drafting classes learn the elements of shop sketching, pictorial representation of objects and geometric construction. Department chairman is Mr. Theodore Corombos.

Sophs Adjust to Campus Type Environment

In September, 1,100 bewildered sophomores entered Southfield High School. With maps in hand, they courageously found their way around the school. Since then, the sophomores have made a name for themselves. They brought forth the bumbling, buzzing, 'Flea Circus' for Homecoming, while sneakers paraded about the halls proclaiming Southfield spirit.

The candy sale also highlighted 1966. The sweet smell of chocolate floated through the school helping the sophomores to sell a numerous amount of candy bars.

The 'footprint' of the sophomore class can be found in the field of drama, sports, forensics, and our new radio station, WSHJ.

These events and others have given the sophomores a name to be proud of. When 1969 rolls around they will look back at their achievements remembering all the adventure, amusements, and good hard work they experienced.

Juniors Work to Make Their Year the Best

The juniors started off the year by building three tissue elephants for entry in the homecoming competion. The float lost by only one vote to the senior entry. The juniors were not dismayed, they would prove themselves soon.

The juniors soon began work on a African school project. From the funds of their Sophomore candy sale, the juniors gave unselfishly to build an additional classroom to the school in Kongoi.

Now that the juniors were warmed up, they plunged headfirst into Spirit Week. After a week of work and demonstrations, they were pronounced the undisputed victors.

The juniors decided to restore the school tradition that was broken by the class of '67. The juniors returned to square rings.

Then with a whole year of accomplishments behind them, the class of '68 tackled their hardest project of the year, the Junior-Senior Prom.

GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH

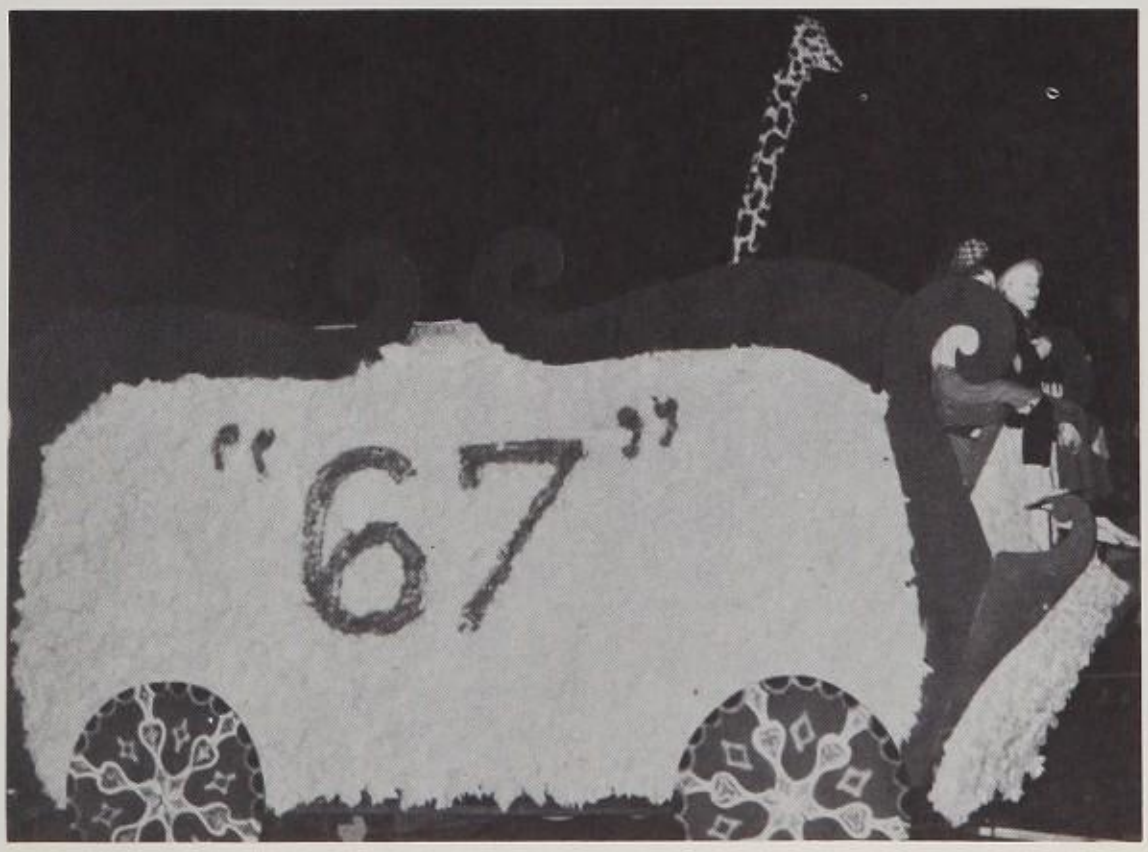
Circus Gaiety Comes to All of Southfield

Floats Steal the Show

October 14, 1966. The sky--overcast; The air--heavy; The wind--biting, and the Weather Bureau said, 'Rain!' Ambitious Southfield students had been frantically building and stuffing, stuffing and painting for three too-short weeks, and when the big day came, it was gray. Keeping in mind that old cliche, 'The Show Must Go On!' everyone brought their floats to the school, where Student Congress was directing traffic three hours before Show-Time. The first Place Senior Float was 'The Greatest Show On Earth,' a horse-pulled circus wagon preceded by an authentic calliope and followed by a booming cannon. The Second Place Junior Float was an 'Elephant Show' led by a dancing zoo elephant. The Sophomores built a 'Flea Circus' to take Third Place in the Class Division. After the excitement of the awards had subsided, everyone turned their eyes Heavenward for thanks, and noticed that it hadn't rained after all.

'The Most Beautiful Float' is a Carousel constructed by the Spanish Club.

Band Float, a gigantic giraffe, is awarded the title 'The Most Original Float.'



Clowns, Linda Wicks and Doug Schram proudly drive the First Place Senior Float.

Homecoming Adds Flair To Game

The tension of the game is shown in Drum Major, Bill Usted's taut stance.

The Civil Air Patrol pays tribute to the American Flag.

A chill of excitement was in the air as the floats neared the field to start the Homecoming Game. The stands were filled with color and spirit as the festivities began. The uniformed Civil Air Patrol brought the thought of patriotism to the mind of each spectator, as they raised the American flag. The first clear strains of the Southfield Senior High School marching band brought the stands to a hush. Was this the thrill of Homecoming? Then came the floats...the cars...and the queen candidates. Southfield colors came onto the football field. It was the heroes and the benchwarmers, our football team. Years fused together as Alumni cheered with the Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors. There was feeling of urgency as the ball flew into the air, but it did not land on our end of the field. Did it really matter? It was our night, our game, our team. Most of all, Homecoming was more than just winning or losing a game... we all knew it.

On a windy October night, Queen Candidate, Eileen Silverman, driven by Barry Nemon and escorted by Steve Field, rides past the watchful crowd.

Crowning Tops Dance Success

Never had a high school gym been so romantic as it was for the Queens and Quarterbacks Homecoming Dance of 1966. The lights were dim. Multi-colored balloons appeared to bob and float everywhere. The orchestra seemed to wrap the crowd in soft music. Suspended from the center of the ceiling was a crepe paper cage filled with plush stuffed animals. On stage was a bright circus clown who inflated and deflated himself regularly. In spite of the surface serenity, so contrary to the excitement of the night before, there seemed to be a static suspense which increased as the time drew nearer to crown the Queen. At 10:30, each of the girls on the Homecoming Court was escorted to the stage. For the first time Mr. Hall broke the tradition of walking behind the line of candidates by allowing Ted Simmons, the Most Valuable Football Player, to open the fated envelope.

Linda Fuller ends her reign as she crowns 1966 Homecoming Queen, Maryanne Ellison.

Gaily attired for the occasion, Sandy Waller punches tickets to admit Mark Blumer and his date to the dance.

In the gay circus atmosphere of the transformed gym, dancing students enjoy the climax of a weekend of fun.

Varsity Club Candidate ,Janis Fuller and escort Paul Mehl make their way through the crowd.

Walking to the stage, Art Club Candidate, Joan Knighton smiles at escort Craig Stratmiller.

Long gowns emphasized the dignity of their carriage, the elegance of their manner, the pride in their faces. This year's Homecoming Court consisted of girls who have made many contributions to Southfield in addition to their beauty. Among them are class officers, cheerleaders, club officers, and choir members. They have participated in almost every facet of school life and have taken advantage of the many opportunities offered them here. They have met many kinds of people, formed different types of friendships, and become well-rounded persons. They will leave a part of themselves with Southfield High; we are proud to have them represent us and wish them the best of life always.

An August Moon Smiles Sucess on the Fall Play

Miss Higa Jiga, Liana Holton, and Ladies' League demand Geisha-equality from Captain Frisby, Jim Stedman.

Seemingly out of season, 'The Teahouse of the August Moon' was presented before an over-packed auditorium on November 16, 17, and 18. But these polished performances were not created by a single stroke of the hand. Many 'hands' were needed to shape this year's fall play. Experienced guidance was provided through the helpful hands of Mrs. Borts and Miss Stromer. Sue Merson, student director, pitched in and took over Nancy Kean's role when Nancy became ill opening night. About sixty people were on hand to arrange lights, provide props, and paint scenery. Almost the entire make-up committee gave their right arms to create an Oriental slant to American faces. The costume committee sewed, the cast gestured, and the audience clapped. Every performance of 'The Teahouse of the August Moon' got a tremendous hand.

Annual Choral Concert Highlights Christmas

The Christmas spirit was deeply felt through the harmonious voices of the Southfield High School combined choirs at the annual Christmas Concert under the direction of Mr. Vincent Kochenderfer and Mrs. Ellen Jones. The concert has always been a high point of the holiday season. The Southfield auditorium was filled with a warm atmosphere of the Christmas season, through the beautiful voices of the high school choirs singing holiday songs and hymns. The weeks of preparation by the choirs were seen in the delighted faces of the attentive audience taken into a world of Christmas by holiday decore and the songs of the combined choirs. Each song thrilled the audience

Voices from Concert Choir, Girls' Glee, Madrigal, Varsity Girls' Choir, and Boys' Glee made up the concert.

Exchange Students Add Foreign Flavor

'Sun' reporter and advisors, Mr. Salsburg and Mr. Di Guilio, meet with summer travelers.

The varied cultures and personalities of many foreign countries were introduced to students by the amiable representatives attending SHS this year. Tom Osterman brought Swedish influence to the Varsity Football Team. Ritva Ahola is our first Foreign Exchange student from Finland. The peaceful Swiss culture was represented by Andrea Teuven, a lovely blonde from Basel. Europe was not the only continent present at Southfield. Maria Lutz carried the spirit of Mexico across the Rio Grande with her. Further south, Haydee Livschitz from Argentina revealed the colorful South American personality to SHS. This year students will visit many countries including Japan, France, Sweden, Finland, Denmark, Spain, Germany, Holland, and England. Bon Voyage!

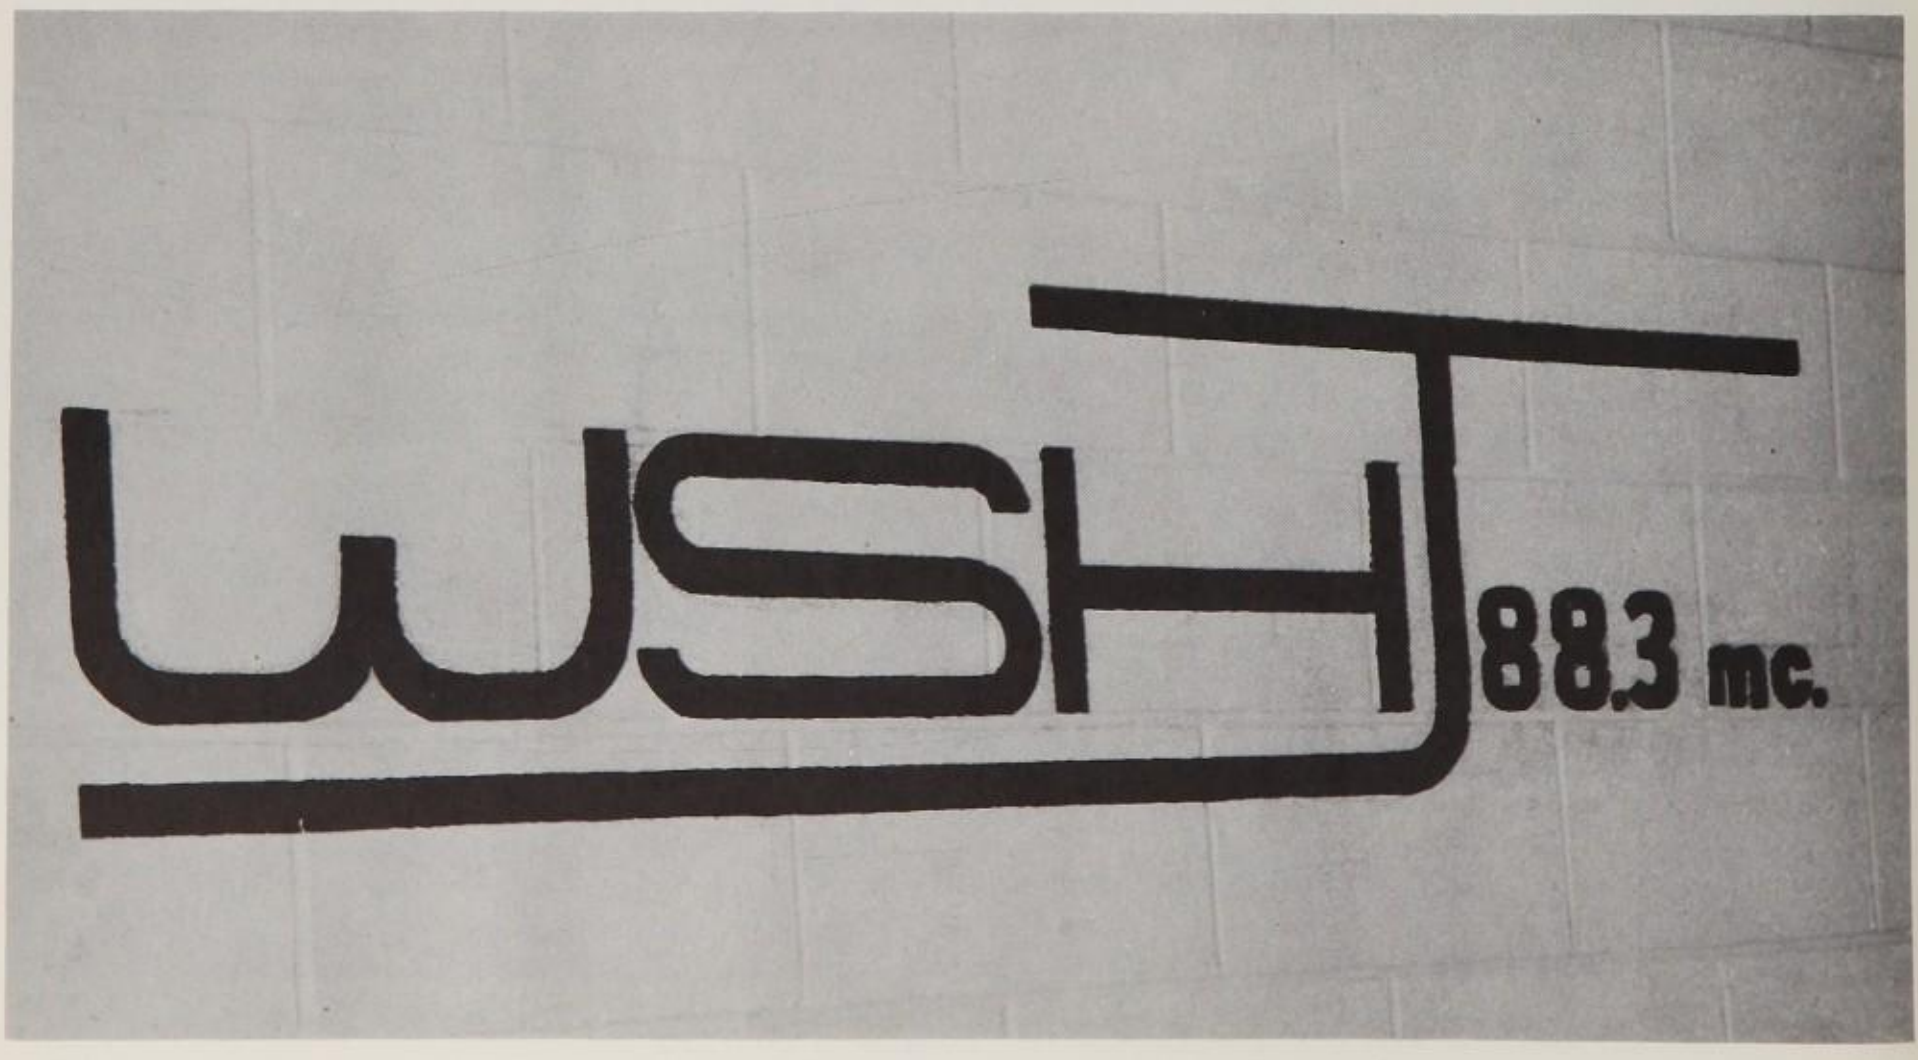
Community Lends an Ear to Radio Station, WSHJ

Relax some afternoon and tune to 88.3 F.M. on your radio dial and get ready for an hour or two of pure enjoyment. This year Southfield's radio station, WSHJ, stands for Southfield High Jays and really brings pride to the school. After approved by the Federal Communications Commision in Washington D.C., broadcasting began early in March. Students under the direction of Mr. Tom Kiple, control the electronic mechanics and actual broadcasting of the station. Those who plan to continue in the field of communications gain a wealth of experience. The station is on the air 8:00 until 2:30 weekdays. Geared for adult and teen audiences, the station brings listening pleasure by featuring not only popular music but also show tunes and important school events and games.

Bill Marschner sits in front of the complicated controls used for daily broadcasting.



The WSHJ trademark, designed by Janet Voy, is brightly painted on the wall of the corridor which leads to the station.

Assistant Publicity Director, Howard Tyner, also has technical responsibilities.

Coaching, Costumes, Make-up Make Music Man

Mrs. Bernstein instructs the chorus in some important last minute tips and reminders.

'Music Man,' the Spring musical this year, was good enough to be on television, and that's exactly what happened. A producer happened to be in the audience opening night, recognized our superior Southfield talent, and offered the cast a 15 minute spot on TV. Since the musical was sold-out before the second performance, this was a great opportunity for late-comers.

About 200 people were involved in this production and their hard work really paid off. The cast was very poised and the audience felt they were watching professionals.

Many scenes will be remembered for a long time. How many could forget Mayor Shinn's 'Fourscore and...' or Harold Hill and 'Maa..rian, the Libraa..rian,' or 'We got Trouble' or 'The Shipoopi,' or...or. or...the list is endless! The Cast and Crew of 'Music Man' should be very proud of their fine performance.

Student Enthusiasm Soars During Spirit Week

The sophomores, represented by their executive board kindle their burning spirits.

Spirit is the cornerstone of every successful school. This year Southfield High has certainly succeeded in school spirit. For the first time the Student Congress sponsored Spirit Week. During this week the sophomore, junior, and senior classes competed for the title of the class that promotes the most school spirit. Posters were hung on the walls with such sayings as '68 says Southfield's great. and seniors say 'go Jays.' Several events took place to promote spirit. The Junior class had white shirt day, and the Seniors had Grub Day. A pep rally climaxed the week. Each class gave a presentation of their spirit. The Juniors had the most supporters at the Ferndale basketball game and therefore were awarded the Spirit Jug.

Esther Seigel, Nancy Peters, and Chris Polesky spout spirit at the unveiling of the Juniors' Magic Box.

In a mock game, seniors Dan Chandler, Mickey Davis, and Kim Fawcett hover over de-spirited Glenn Fink as Chicken Jay Barb Pepp comes to the rescue.

Seniors Give a Boost to City Government

'Lower the voting age to 18!' 'How about monkee music piped over the P.A.?' These were some of the excited cries of SHS seniors on November 13, Student Government Day, sponsored by the Optimist Club. The event was opened by a Senior Assembly which was followed by a luncheon. At about one o'clock the whole party left for a tour of the Civic Center and Municipal Offices. When the students took over their posts, Mayor Sam Bair would have dismissed his secretaries, but Mayor Clarkson stepped in. City Accountant Doug Schram tried to reduce taxes, but...Sheriff Bill Chase arrested Mr. Fisher for colliding with a school bus. Mary George sued him and the case was tried before Judge Sheldon Kaye. That evening, the senior officials and their parents attended a climactic banquet and an authentic City Council meeting.

Senior Prom, Party, and Swing-out-

For the first time, the Senior Prom is at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel. Overwhelmed by the luxurious elegance of the Grand Ballroom, couples dance light of head and foot to the sound of Sam Emmer and his orchestra.

In an adjacent room, Nancy DeMasellis and Rod Parent enjoy the Sheraton Cadillac's refreshments.

Seniors Say 'So Long Southfield !'

By the time May rolls around every year, Seniors have learned to repress anything that even resembles an educational thought. Good thing, too, because with the excitement of Prom ever increasing, who wants their conscience droning, 'Study! Study!' But when Prom Night comes, everything's forgotten. Last year's Senior Prom was one of the most successful in Southfield's history. Couples were greeted by the Junior Board and crowded into the Grand Ballroom of the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel. The Senior Party was the opposite of the Prom. Students came prepared to do all the zany things they never dared do before. But when it came time to say good-bye, there were tears in the eyes of many people. To the strains of Pomp and Circumstance, the Class of 1966 walked through the doors of Southfield High and out to the world.

Steve Youra, Steve Field, and Sue Cassidy look envious as Senior President Jim Shoemaker prepares to cut the cake Juniors provided.

Man's potential is far greater than can be comprehended.
Oh, but for a few men working together!

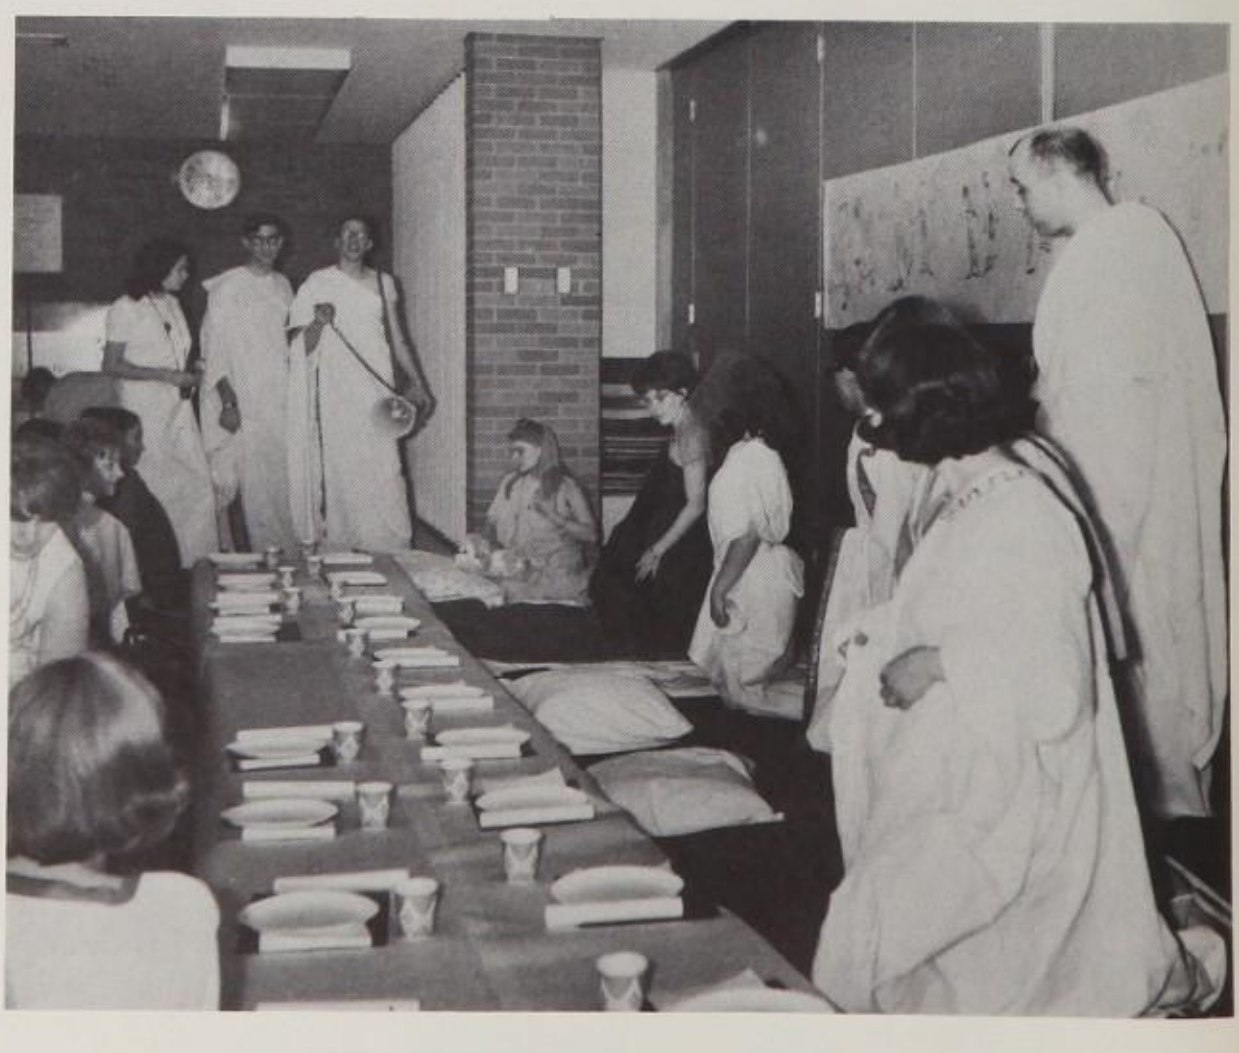
ORGANIZATIONS



Student Leaders Guide Southfield Activities

Student government is an important aspect of school life. Ideally, it teaches the participants the functions of representative organizations. In the practical sense, there is a little chaos, a little Robert's Rule, and alot of action. Student Congress, under the leadership of Doug Zusman, has worked to achieve a better year for the students at Southfield. All the activities that they undertook have been successfully and efficiently carried through.

Another part of student government are the Homeroom Work Councils. This body, composed of homeroom representatives, functions as a liason between students and their government, as a sounding board for problems, and an open ear for suggestions. Throughout this year they have discussed the possibility of an Underclass Bermuda Day, a Computer Dance, and Southfield Sweaters for the students. Many of their ideas have been carried out to the appreciation of the students.

Student Congress has worked to achieve a better year for the students of Southfield High. Quick to organize, the Student Congress began their busy year in the fall, with the festive Homecoming week-end and the Queen's and Quarterback's Dance.

Following Homecoming, the annual Student Congress-Student Body Canned Food Drive was held during the Christmas Season.

A major activity this year was Spirit Week. The school came alive with the enthusiasm of class rallies and parades, Senior Grub-Day Grubs, dressy juniors, class announcements, and over-whelmed sophomores. The classes vied for the spirit jug trophy.

Student Congress had the responsibility of the book nook, aproving posters, club-sponsored dances and other student activities.

Self-expression is a common achievement for Symposium, Thespians, and Art Club.

Symposium is a formal name for Southfield's Folk Song Club, sponsored by Mr. Roberts. The weekly meetings were informal, musical, and often informative. The year was keynoted by visits from guest singers and guitarists from the Detroit area.

Kept busy working on the fall show, and musical, Thespians, sponsored by Mrs. Borts, has found time to perform tasks which are necessary to keep the stage in good condition. The group also purchased blocks of tickets from the Fisher Theatre, enabling many students to see 'Walking Happy' and 'Half of Six-pence' at student rates.

The Art Club has maintained a record of active participation. Throughout the year they have taken many field trips to art exibits.

The Interact, Key Club, Soroptimums, and Y-Teens, service clubs at SHS, have achieved a record year of activity.

Both Interact and Soroptimums channeled their activities to school service by providing ushers and guides for both theatrical productions and parent's open house. Y-Teens, Soroptimums, and Interact Clubs chose Christmas as a time for charity and community projects. Soroptimums had a double project of a dress drive for underprivileged children and making octopi dolls for orphans. The Y-Teens sent holiday decorations to an orphanage to brighten their season. Interact members spent an evening of combing the city for toy donations. These gifts were sent to underprivileged children. The Key Club has sponsored a year-round tutorial project.

Scientific advancement, technilogical achievement, and well-rounded scholars hold a spark of interest which explodes into important projects.

The Science and Sound Clubs cannot boast earthshaking advancements, but they can take credit for sparking the all important interest in future scientists and communications experts.

The Science Club, guided by Mr. Brewbaker, has had an experimental and active year. One of the major goals for this year has been the development of projects to be entered in the Science Fair.

The efficiency of SHS communications opertions is augmented by the Sound Club, under the leadership of Mr. Poertner. The members of the club are responsible for the sound room and the sound equipment. The boys also lend a hand at school functions and programs.

The participants in the National Honor Society are the scholastically high, well-rounded students of the school. Aside from the usual tapping and induction ceremony, NHS held a fund-raising auction which caught the full spirit of students and faculty.

In the freezing weather, buses and cars hauled crowds of skiers, along with their equipment, to the slopes of Mount Holly, for an evening of the sport and excitement. These regular outings helped the skiers in their form and ability. The slopes were always a challenge, and thrill a constant factor for a member of this club.

A trip to Boyne Mountain, located in the northern Lower Peninsula, highlighted the club's activities. Skiis were lost, legs were broken, noses were frozen, and bruises covered the body, but the weekly Tuesday trips, and the excursion to Boyne Mountain were well worth any pain suffered!

School Clubs Spark Blue and Gray Spirit

Because of the vital spirit that generates throughout the school, SHS has achieved success and fame. The continuous spirit is carried throughout the seasons by the Varsity Club, the Cheerleaders, and the Majorettes. With their help, the student body encourages our teams to victory. All three groups have added something special to Southfield's athletic events.

Members of the Varsity Club participate in many sports as well as cheer others on to win the games. They can always be heard when supporting pep assemblies, games and meets.

Generating excitement, eagerness, and enthusiasm is the responsibility of the cheerleaders. Led by Captain Molly Mikelson the squad rouses school-wide spirit and support through victory and defeat.

Our majorettes provided half-time entertainment at our home football games. These girls worked hard to add color and excitement to the school.

Through GAA, Swim Club, and Dance Club, girls who enjoy sports have a chance to improve their athletic ability.

The GAA, headed by Miss Jacks, offers various activities ranging from badminton and volley ball to fencing. Pins and letters can be earned on a point basis.

Poise and co-ordination are stressed through the Swim Club and Dance Club. Mrs. Hoffman, Swim Club advisor, instructs girls in the art of synchronized swimming and the techniques of water ballet.

Striving for self-expression through a musical pattern, the Dance Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Nash, has learned the refinements of modern dance.

These three clubs show one of the diverse fields of Southfield school life. They help produce well poised, co-ordinated, and fun loving girls.

Clubs Point

Active participation keynotes the Debate Club, Future Teachers, and Future Nurses. The participants of these groups have an eye on the future and the world around them.

The Debate Club was spotlighted by the Varsity Debate Team, and a controversial year. After a busy season of research, self-sacrifice, and travelling, the Debate Team won the right to participate in the District, Regional, and State Tournaments. At the final competition, our team placed 3rd in the state. Their record is superlative, and the honor they've brought SHS is great.

The Future Teachers of America, sponsored by Mrs. Wallendorf and Mrs. Holley, have proved themselves a capable and energetic group. They participate in an exciting year-round project of student teaching in other Southfield Public Schools.

Future Nurses maintain an interest in the many facets of medical careers. They include in their activities, trips to various hospitals, candy-striping at a local old age home, and at school they co-sponsored a jam with Interact.

Foreign language is an important part of SHS's extra-curricular activities. The Foreign Exchange Club is an excellent opportunity for students who have been abroad and visiting foreign exchange students to become better acquainted with customs, and cultures of various countries. A dinner was presented this year by the Foreign Exchange Club. The meal contained many delectable foreign dishes.

The Italian and German Clubs also stress language, customs, and cultures of the countries they are concerned with. The membership in these clubs shows the avid interest of the Southfield student in his studies and the world around him.

The German Club promoted the study of the German culture, which was a great help when speaking with foreign exchange student, Hilke.

The Italian Club brought Italy a little closer to home for its members. The club members have worked on various projects for fund-raising, including two successful bagel sales.

Through these three clubs, a closer relationship among countries, through foreign language is attained by atmospheres of creativity and friendship.

Parlez Vous Francais? No Senor; Latinum Dicto !

Latin Club officers enjoy a feast of figs, grapes, and fish at their Roman Banquet.

Three of Southfield's language clubs, French, Latin, and Spanish have had stimulating and exciting activities this year.

Each club was designed to develop an extra interest and proficiency in the specific language.

French Club had a 'bonne annee' which was highlighted by a trip to a French restaurant. The group also sponsored an orphan overseas.

The Latin Club worked on many small projects, but focused their attention on a spectacular Latin-style banquet. Many members also took the Latin Competitive Test in which some scored very high. To complete their year, any member wishing to go, could attend the Latin National Convention.

The Spanish Club kept up that Latin beat with the trot of the horse on a delightful hayride. Their carousel float won the 'most beautiful' prize at Homecoming. This climaxed a year of language and learning for the club.

Stock Market Club, Chess Club and Team, Model Un, and Community Relations Seminar all provide opportunities for Southfield High School students to participate in a wide variety of activities.

The financial wizards of SHS raised money last year with hopes of buying a successful stock. Under the guidance of Mr. Dengate, the sponsor of the Stock Exchange Club, these enterprising economists invested in twenty shares of American Motors Corporation. The club has watched the progress of their company throughout the year, and learned much about financing and American economics.

The kings and queen of Southfield's Chess board have had a jumping year of learning the finer points of chess and competition. A select number of the boys participated in the chess program which included inter-school meets.

SHS'rs Find a Home in "Think Clubs"

The Model UN is concerned with the American policy, and the functions of the United Nations. They had an active year of representing a delegated nation at many district caucuses around the state. The University of Detroit, sponsor of this program, assigned the countries of Lestho and Syria to the competent SHS ambassadors.

Community Relations Seminar is a senior organization that has assumed the leadership in community service programs. Each Wednesday night, the school library is open to the public, a new project this year. There have been meetings with varied topics, and guest speakers such as an Interfaith program and a meeting with a Yoga expert. The CRS sponsored a 'Keep Southfield Beautiful' campaign that culminated with an award from the President in Washington D.C.

Cheerleaders Aid in Winning Games

The essential part of a winning team is not only the ability of the players, but also school spirit. Helping to promote spirit are the girls chosen as cheerleaders.

Part of their uniform is always a bright smile and a vivacious personality. The cheerleaders are kept busy not only by cheering for games, but also planning pep assemblies, decorating locker rooms before games, and arranging bake sales.

Led by Captain, Molly Mikelson, the Varsity cheerleaders, Jeanne Winchester, Janine Pioch, Jan Fuller, Peg Heller, Nancy Sisson, and Linda Rezak, prove themselves to be worthy of representing SHS teams.

1966 Football Season was the Best in Years

The Southfield Coaches John Finlayson, Ed Bryant, Dave Butler and Tom Ridley look over some plays.

The 1966 football squad had its best year since 1957 finishing with a 6-3 record. The main reason for this record was the fine running of Ted Simmons. Simmons carried the ball 155 times for 1057 yards. Other outstanding players were Dave Brackett considered to be one of the finest linemen in the area, and Greg Anderson, All-Conference Defensive back. Dave Hubbard, Gary Eckout, Jim Watts, and Chris Caparossi also played large parts in the Jays success. The Jays ended the season big by winning their last four games. In these games, the standout was quarterback, Greg Anderson.

Next year's season looks like it will be just as good. Returning will be Greg Anderson, Rocky Roe, Jim Watts, Mark Bernstein, Tank Thompson, Lance Pesci, and Steve Marx.

JV Looks to Next Year

This year, the Junior Varsity football team finished the season with an excellent 7-2 record, losing one game by two points. Mr. Harper's charges rolled up over 2100 total yards and scored 160 points to their opponents 60.

The Junior Varsity was led by three players who were later promoted to the parent club.

Flashy Dave Weiland, who eventually starred with the Varsity was the leading scorer, and Steve Watts led the JV's in rushing as he gained 384 yards in four games. Mark Bernstein was a standout on the JV team, and continues with Varsity in the same manner.

Even with the loss of Bernstein, Watts, and Weiland, the JV's played fine ball with just 17 players. They were quarterbacked by Russ Ellison and Jeff Farland, while being led by big, bruising Jerry McCann on defense.

1966-7 Initiates First Varsity Skiing Season

The boys' ski team has now become a varsity sport. This is the first time it has been included as a varsity sport.

Two members of last year's team Gary Sayers and Dave Brackett, went to a racing school in Oregon to improve their techniques.

The boys' and girls' ski teams, on February 18, competed in the State Regional Meet.

Gary Sayers was fourth in Giant Slalom and seventh in Slalom. Ted Brackett was eighth in Giant Slolom, and his brother, Dave finished eleventh.

In girls' competition, Gail Sherman led the team with a third place in Giant Slolom and Mary Little was eighth in Slolom. Both teams took sixth place.

In league competition, SHS took first in standings in one of the two divisions.

Harriers, Paced by Hartman, Sayers, Best in SHS

Seniors Gary Sayers, Jerry Shipp, and Kim Hartman led this year's Cross Country team. Sayers and Hartman were All-Conference. Kim Hartman placed first in the Conference with a 9:45 time which was the best time. In the meet he beat the best harrier in the state by 13 seconds. By placing in the Conference meet it entitled them to qualify for the state championship. In the All-State meet, with all the best runners in the state, Kim Hartman placed second and Gary Sayers 29th.

The team had a fair season with one problem of depth. Their record was 5 wins and 3 losses. In the Conference meet the team took fourth place losing to Seaholm by 1 point.

Next years team had John Hundiak and Bruno Podinsek back. Both their best times this year was 10:48.

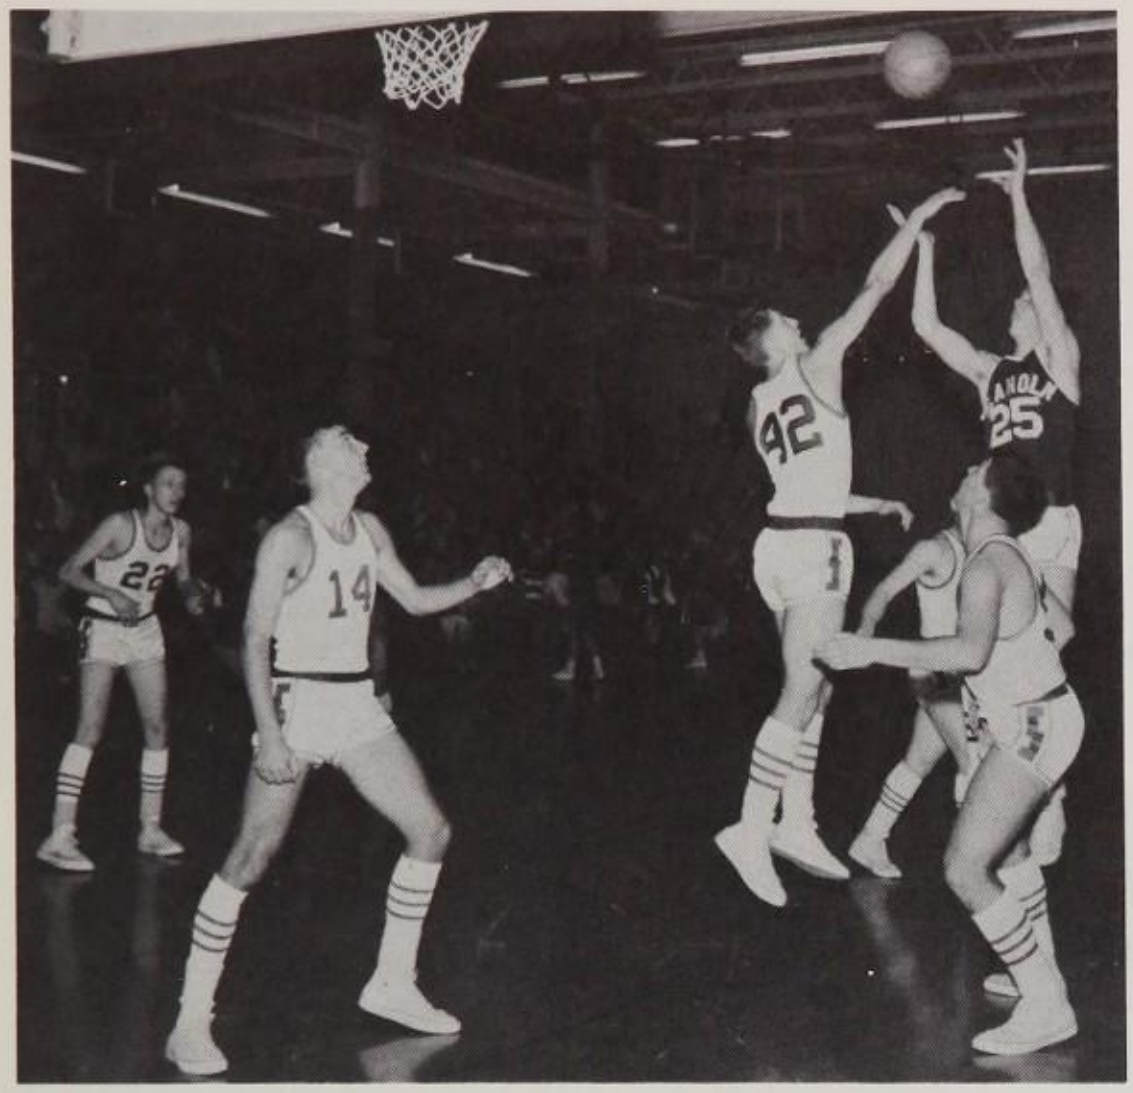
Jays Capture Christmas Tournament



Center, Dave Kontry blocks a Seaholm player's shot.

This year Varsity Basketball team was lead by Captain, Ted Simmons and Glen Lenhoff. Glen Lenhoff was the leading scorer with over a 19 point average. Ted Simmons was close behind in the scoring race and also was the floor general for the Jays. But credit should not be given to just Lenhoff and Simmons for this fine 12-7 record. There was Bill Davidson, Dave Kontry and Bob Scheuer. Kontry and Davidson were strong on the boards all year long and Scheuer took care of defending against the toughest opposition on each team.

The highlights of the season were when the Jays won the Northwest Invitational Christmas Tournament and the victory over the Ferndale Eagles.

The Jays ended up in a tie with Kimball for third in the SMA. Ted Simmons was named to first team All-Conference, Glen Lenhoff second team and Dave Kontry and Bill Davidson honorable mention.

Southfield Junior Varsity Compiles 11-3 Slate

Dave Weiland sneaks in between opponents to shoot a jump shot.

If this year's Junior Varsity basketball team was an example of the type of basketball that's going to be played for the next few years at Southfield it looks like Southfield will have a few champions. This year's team had an 11- 3 record. The team lacked the individual star. There were six stars on the team. Dave Weiland, Rick Ellison, and Roger Ovink took care of the scoring and rebounding. Dave Evaul was the hustler on the team. Many times you would see Dave on the floor diving for a ball. He also was a fine rebounder. The other two players of the sextet were the guards John Boger and Marv Blemly who were the playmakers and got their share of the scoring.

In winning eleven games Coach Kortakis got to use his bench many times. They proved to be very good. Howard Weiss, Jeff Farland, Leonard Allen, and Gary Balazalso contributed to the victories.

But then Coach Arlin Severson's caught fire and reeled off four Straight victories, one of them against SMA for Berkley before being beaten by Hazel Park.

The grapplers, being paced by All-Conference Brent Fleury and Mark Turczyn, then came back and won straight over Ferndale and Highland Park. The streaky matmen finished with a 7-6 record, collecting a 2-3 record in the SMA.

In the SMA conference meet the Jays took a fifth place. Captain Brent Fleury (undefeated in two years) was the only conference champ, winning the 120-pound division, and advanced to the State Finals.

Jay Thinclads Shatter Long-Standing Records;

Host of Returnees Should Spark 1967 Hopes

The 1966 Track season proved to be an outstanding one for the Jays. Kim Hartman broke both his own 880 and mile marks. Steve Bright erased the old 100 yard dash mark. Ralph Roscoe besides helping out in the two relay teams which topped the school record he was also the All-Conference broad jumper. Dave Eastin proved to be the most outstanding trackman as he was the high point man for the season. He competed in the 180 low hurdles 120 hurdles, and the 880 relay team.

This years team should equal that of last year. Back from last years team are Steve Bright, Kim Hartman, Gary Sayers, Gerry Shipp, Glenn Fink, Dick Moses, Bruno Podlinsek and Kim Fawcett.

Linkmen Putt Around, Have Mediocre League Season

Mark Mattingly eyes pin for a birdie 3, in action against Seaholm, Captain Jerry Bigleman is holding the pin.

The Golf team was to have a good outlook with returning lettermen Rick Smith, Elliot Dworkin, John Osterberg, Tom Sarkasian, and Jerry Biegleman, The Jays received a jolt when news came that Elliot Dworkin. was out for the season with a serious back injury. In the first match, Bob and Tom Sarkasian had 42 to lead the way in which started off a tough season for the Jays. One of the highlights of the season was when Southfield broke Walled Lake's 40 match winning streak with Larry Sabat leading the way with 39. In regionals the Jays took 8 of 32 teams with Scheuer leading with an 81. In the Pontiac Press the Jays took 5 of 9 with Osterberg's 77, Sarkasian's 78, Biegleman's 80, and Sabat's 78. Against Northville Bob Scheuer, a sophomore, set the school record with a one-under par 34. This coupled with Larry Sabat's 39 and John Osterberg's 50 helped the Jays set a team record of 158 for four men. The Jays did very well in non-league play and also fared well in league play taking fourth in the league.

Lack of Individual Stars Hurt 1966 Netman

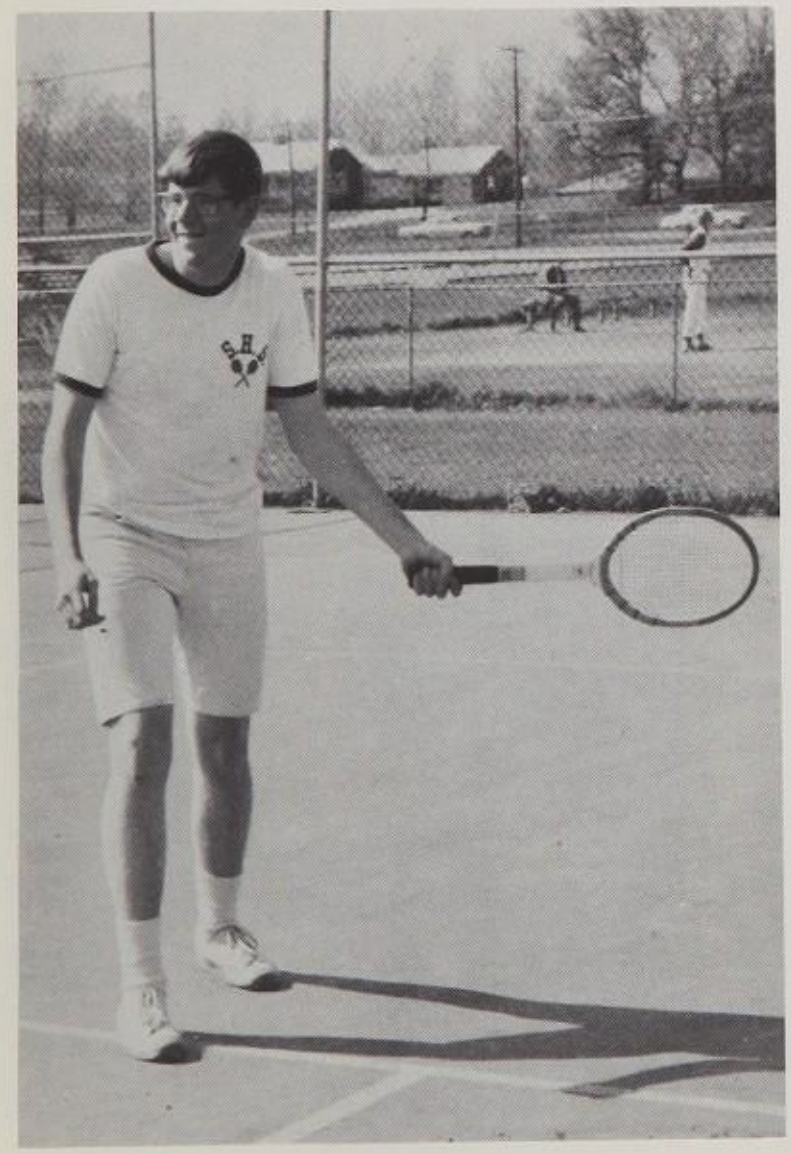
Due to a lack of individual stars, the 1966 tennis team had a fairly mediocre season, but with four returnees, the netmen most assuredly will improve themselves in 1967.

Gone from last year's varsity squad are Dave Stoker, Jim Shotwell, Ken Kornheiser, Dave Eary, Jim Adams and Bob Cavalieri. But returning seniors John Clixby, Rick Perlman, Murray Sheldon, and Dave Gunsberg are expected to boost the Jays over their 1966 mark, in which they took fifth place in the SMA conference standings.

In the Regional meet held at Hamtramack, the Southfield netmen took a surprising third place out of 19 schools. This year's co-captains, John Clixby and Rick Perlman both advanced to the third round in the Regional competition.



Jim Shotwell demonstrates his excellent form.

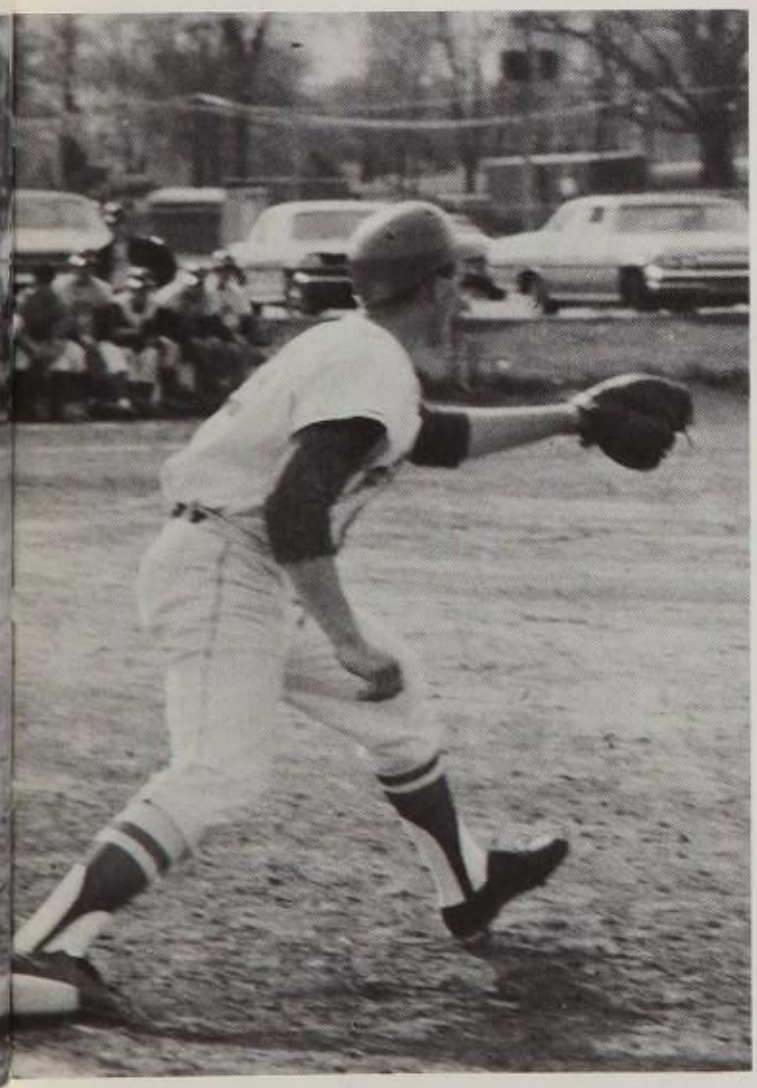
Southfield Wins Pontiac Press Tournament



With sure speed Steve Steinman beats out a bunt in the last inning of the game.

The Southfield Jays under coach Ed Bryant, captured the Pontiac Press Tournament championship for the second straight year. Again it was Ted Simmons who enabled the Jays to win. He gained MVP honors to make it two years in a row.

This season was not as successful for the Jays as the tournament. They ended up with a 4-5 SMA record and a 9-6 record altogether.

Named to the All-Conference team from last year were Ted Simmons and Mike Kuhna.

Returning to the team this year are Rocky Roe, Bill Davidson, Lance Pesci, Ted Simmons, Dave Hubbard, Gary Eckout and Tom Burkert.

SENIORS

Senior Board and Sponsors Plan Senior Year

The Class of 1967 has distinguished itself time again in the three years it has been a part of Southfield High. At the 1965 Homecoming Game, the brightly-colored, Sophomore cuckoo clock, took the title of 'Most Beautiful Float.' As Juniors, the class created many first in Southfield's history. They were the first Junior Class to capture first place in the float contest. They voted to change the school rings from the traditional square to round shape. They were the first to try to make a separate Junior and Senior Prom at SHS The Class of 1967 presented the most beautiful prom ever at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel. As seniors they again took first place in the Float Competition with a gaily-painted circus wagon, This class has produced many scholars, renowned athletes, and dramatic talents who have made this a great year at Southfield. Class of 1967 - we salute you.

Mr. Voisin, Miss Anderson, and Miss Sutton help the senior board plan activities for the year.

We, the staff of the 1967 Blue and Gray, have tried to present the many opportunities available to each student at Southfield High School. Through these opportunities, we hope that we have provided the perspective enabling each student to view himself as an individual.

Our sincerest thanks to those individuals who have assisted us in the publication of the 1967 Blue and Gray. We would like to thank Mr. Baker of the Midwest Yearbook Company for his patience and help. We are deeply indebted to the Bill Williams Studio for their excellent job in handling our pictures and problems. Our thanks goes to Janet Voy for designing the cover and to Miss Marilyn Tisdale and Mrs. Shroyer Kearns for their encouragement and helpful advice. A special thank you to Mr. Robert MacDougall, Nancy Peters, Mark Grossman and Paul Rochlen for the contribution of their time and concern.

Good luck to a fellow Thespian!

You're a really great guy,

I hope we get in

Good Luck

Steve,
I don't know how I'm going to be glad we got to know each other. Even though she (k) would have, we're still continued our realitionship, all the way across the room. I hope I'll see you when I come back next year to visit.
Be good, and when you want to smile, remember the funny little redhead named Laurie. God Bless you, Good Luck.

Steve,
whatever would I do without your friendly little face to brighten up 3rd hour? We've had so much fun this year, I'm glad we got to know each other. Even though she (k) would have, we're still continued our realitionship, all the way across the room. I hope I'll see you when I come back next year to visit.
